The cooperation between HOTSPLOTS and hubermedia GmbH enables you to display tourist information and offers from the region around your hotspot location directly to your Wi-Fi landing page. Especially noteworthy: the location-based basic offer is absolutely free. You can simply activate the service via your customer area and choose the categories to be displayed to your guests on your Wi-Fi landing pages yourself. The content is provided by well-known travel guides and many local tourism authorities and is updated regularly. Optionally, you can enter further information such as a digital guest folder or your restaurant menu into the system.
